WE HAVE A NEW WORK OF ART

The Committee of General Faculties Council to Administer the Purchase and Placement of Works of Art has purchased a painting, "Spread from Left," by JACK BUSH, on behalf of the University. The cost of the painting, which hangs in the Central Academic Building, was $2,520.

The establishment of the committee, and this, the first purchase, stem from the policy approved by the Board of Governors in June, 1969, that one-half of one per cent of the cost of academic capital building projects be set aside to purchase works of art. The committee has established a long term policy as follows:

1. Since a continuing policy of purchase will add significantly to existing University collections, all future purchases under the jurisdiction of this committee will be limited to works of art executed during the lifetime of the University.

2. While the committee will pay due regard to works of art produced during the period 1906 to 1969 (from the birth of the University to the birth of the present policy), thereby acquiring a historical collection, emphasis will be placed upon the purchase of contemporaneous works of art so that the resultant developing collection will parallel the continuing evolution of the University.

3. Purchases and commissions will be drawn from those sources which represent, by common consent, the highest levels of achievement consistent with budget limitations, no matter where those sources may be found.

4. One function of the University policy on the purchase of works of art must be to foster the development of Canadian art through the patronage of both known and comparatively unknown Canadian artists whose works can be favorably assessed against a background of standards derived from works enjoying high international standing.

5. Each recommendation for purchase will be judged by those standards of excellence which result from the collective experience of the committee of works of art which merit international acclaim.

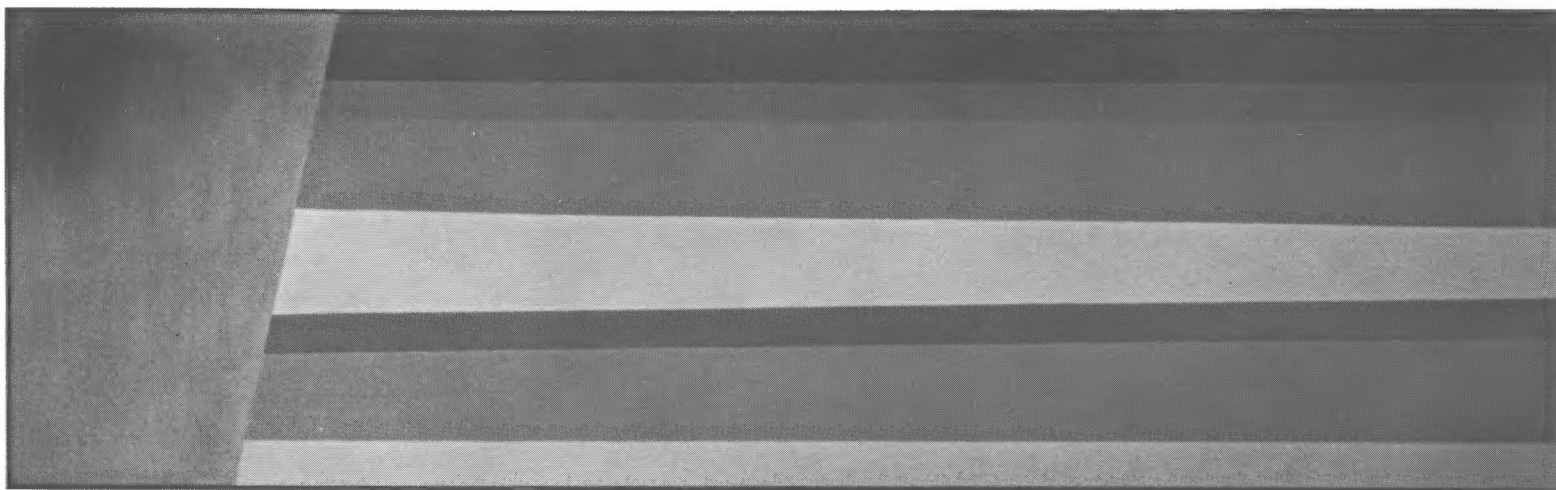

It is within the framework and spirit of this policy that the committee decided, in the circumstances surrounding its first purchase, to seek an outstanding work of art by one of Canada's most senior internationally known painters, JACK BUSH.

The committee has established the following procedures for receiving information. Presentations from individual artists or their agents are invited, subject to the following conditions.

1. All such presentations will be received by the committee only as information.

2. Presentations should normally take the form of (a) a brief description of the artist's career to date, including lists of exhibitions and bibliography, and (b) a representative selection of slides or photographs.

3. All presentations made will remain the property of the committee and will be filed for future reference.

4. All presentations must be addressed to the committee through the chairman who will acknowledge receipt without comment.

5. The chairman will, without prior screening, make all presentations available to the committee at the earliest possible moment.

6. Any further communication between the committee and individual artists or their agents will be only at the instigation of the committee.

7. Personal representations will not be entertained by individual committee members.

8. The committee as a whole, subject to prior agreement, may in certain circumstances invite personal representation.

The Chairman of the Committee to Administer Purchase and Placement of Works of Art on Campus is R. A. DAVEY, Chairman of the Department of Art and Design. Other members of the committee are ALASDAIR DUNLOP, Assistant Professor of Art; LILI KOPALA, graduate student; J. R. NURSALL, Professor of Zoology; B. SCHWARTZ, Associate Professor of Elementary Education; and W. WATSON, Professor of English.

Born in Toronto in 1909, Bush is almost certainly the oldest internationally known Canadian painter. He studied in Montreal and Toronto in the late twenties and has exhibited consistently, mostly in eastern Canada, since 1945. Since the 1960's he has gained much international recognition. Jack Bush's art has changed stylistically since the 1950's from the abstract expressionism that was characteristic of the Toronto group. His later work was heavily influenced by the work of such men as BARNETT NEWMAN and KENNETH NOLAND. This later style, a development from abstract expressionism, has been defined as "post-painterly abstraction." Bush was one of the first painters to do this kind of work.

In "Spread from Left," executed in 1969, Bush does not use paint heavily or three-dimensionally but rather brushes the paint onto the canvas in a very liquid state giving the effect of a stain on a large area. This method of application emphasizes the two-dimensional quality of the picture plane and establishes each color-form as a separate entity and also part of the whole. These large areas of essentially flat color relate to one another without textural addition.

The color-forms are themselves the subject of the painting. The approach to color is intuitive, as distinct from scientific, and "Spread from Left" produces in the viewer a contemplative, emotional reaction rather than an optical, intellectual one.

PEOPLE

■ "Sinfonia" for orchestra by VIOLET ARCHER, Professor of Music, was given its premiere in eastern Canada by the Atlantic Symphony of Halifax in February on the CBC network. Her song cycle "Sky, Sand, and Sea" was sung by soprano ELENA FELS NOTH in a Faculty of Music concert at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, also in February.

research material (books, periodicals, etc.). The donation was made by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation of West Germany, which from time to time gives such grants to its past fellows on the understanding that the material will later be left for the use of the institution at which they are working.

■ NICO STEHR, Assistant Professor of Sociology, attended the annual meeting of the Pacific Sociological Association held at Honolulu, Hawaii, and presented two papers.

■ E. D. BLOGETT, Associate Professor of Comparative Literature, has been invited by the Canadian Comparative Literature Association to present a paper to its third annual meeting, taking place as part of the Learned Societies' meetings in St. John's, Newfoundland in May. Also, MILAN V. DIMIC, Chairman of the Department, has been invited to organize a symposium.

■ MADELEINE J. MONOD, Associate Professor of Secondary Education, has been elected President of the American Association of Teachers of French—British Columbia/Alberta chapter.

■ WILLIAM D. KNILL, Professor of Educational Administration, was invited to visit the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education to present a paper to a staff seminar on "Alternative Models of Graduate Programs in Educational Administration."

■ JOHN MC LEISH, Professor of Educational Psychology, assisted by BOB ANDERSON, GLEN CARTWRIGHT, WAYNE MATHESON, and JAMES PARK, graduate students, conducted a seminar on "Improving University Instruction" which was offered for 25 hours in the current term. A dozen faculty members from Dentistry and Nursing participated. A feature of the seminar was the use of video-tape in the analysis of presentations by the participants.

LOUIS A. DESROCHERS, Chancellor of the University and novice caterpillar operator, receives instruction in the skills needed to move dirt. The occasion was the official sod-turning ceremony last Tuesday for the Fine Arts Building, which the Chancellor unabashedly dubbed "this posh cultural pad." There was some question whether Mr. Desrochers would give up his new toy or finish the excavation himself.
